The state of the line from Kaulsdorf and Grünau (both in the Soviet Sector of Berlin) through Schönefeld - Mittenwalde - Dabendorf - Zossen and Jüterbog to Potsdam is as follows:

1. The Kaulsdorf - Grünau - Schönefeld section is in use and is part of the freight traffic loop line. Two bridges over the Spree River are still under construction, but are open to traffic.
2. The Schönefeld - Mittenwalde section formerly carried light trains, and its track is not suitable for present freight traffic with Reichsbahn locomotives. Three bridges are unsuitable for freight demands.
3. The Mittenwalde - Dabendorf section is under construction. Two emergency bridges are reported to have been built, and the stretch is to be ready by 15 December 1948.
4. The Dabendorf - Zossen - Jüterbog - Trennbrietzen (Z.50) - Wildpark - Potsdam section is in use.
